Ike Says He Still Opposes Senate Civil Rights Bill

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS ARE REPORTED SPLIT OVER A COMPROMISE AMENDMENT

By JACK BELL

Washington (AP)—Administration leaders were reported divided today on whether to seek a compromise on a jury trial amendment or attempt to delay civil rights legislation till next year.

As the measure stands, it requires jury trials in all federal court cases involving criminal contempt. This is defined generally as those in which a judge desires to punish a defendant for not complying, or complying too late, with his orders.

Acting Atty. Gen. William Rogers was quoted by Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) as having said this provision not only would disrupt enforcement of orders of regulatory agencies but would apply to Supreme Court and Circuit Court of Appeals action.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said any such interpretation of the amendment was "nonsense." Saltonstall quoted Rogers as opposing any jury trial provision in the bill, which now is aimed primarily at enforcing voting rights through civil injunctions sought by the attorney general.

Some Republicans think their party will benefit more politically by standing for a stronger civil rights bill, even if that means no measure will be passed by Congress at this time. They were reported arguing against a compromise.

On the other hand, some Republicans who voted against the jury trial amendment felt they could accept gracefully a compromise under which the criminal contempt trial provision would be limited solely to voting cases.

One of these, Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, told his colleagues he regards the measure as "the greatest advance in the field of civil rights since the war."

Although they wouldn't say so publicly, Senate supporters of the jury trial amendment were obviously prepared to make a concession toward limiting it to voting cases.

There was no clear indication how such a compromise would appeal to House members, who will decide the bill's fate after the Senate passes it. The House defeated all jury trial proposals by a substantial margin.

Henchman Of Racketeer Is Probe Witness

Washington (AP)—Frank Easton, described as a henchman of labor racketeer Johnny Dio, told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee today he recalled from memory 54 questions asked him in an interview by committee aides. He denied he had used a recording device.

The issue was raised after Easton, testified before the committee today, involved the Fifth Amendment 88 times in refusing to answer questions about alleged associations with Dio and whether he consulted Dio on his testimony.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, pulled out a list of 54 questions he said had been asked Easton in the interview. Kennedy said the list was obtained from files of the AFL United Auto Workers and suggested Easton must have had a hidden recording device in operation during the interview.

Adenauer Is Scored By Red In E. Germany

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

Berlin (AP)—Soviet commander boss Nikita Khrushchev arrived in East Berlin today for a tour of restive East Germany. He promptly denounced the foreign policy of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer as a "great danger" to world peace.

The Soviet leader made the statement during a massive welcoming ceremony at East Berlin's railway station.

Khrushchev, speaking just five weeks in advance of West German elections in which Adenauer faces a tough fight against the Socialists, told the welcoming rally:

"Unfortunately our peace efforts have not been supported by the ruling quarters of the West German Federal Republic. They counteract the interests of their nation without paying attention to the bad experiences of the past. They sow the poisoned seed of distrust against the Soviet Union and the whole Socialist camp."

"This is a great danger not only for our peoples but also to the cause of world peace."

Khrushchev spoke a few minutes after an East German army band hailed him with the Russian army presentation march. The military anthem played for Adolf Hitler and Kaiser Wilhelm II.

East German troops wearing Soviet-type helmets paraded past in his honor.

Khrushchev, heading a nine-man Moscow delegation, stepped onto the platform closely followed by Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The Russian leader looked a trifle surprised as he was promptly grabbed in a bearhug by spade-headed Walter Ulbricht, the Stalinist boss of East Germany.

Khrushchev, wearing a light suit and a flashy striped tie, was then bussed on both cheeks by East German Premier Otto Grotewohl. He moved down a long line of Soviet bloc diplomats shaking hands, and then shouted with pleasure as he came to a young Russian Pioneer Youth girl, on hand to greet him with flowers.

In his speech, which was broadcast and televised, Khrushchev praised the East German regime and stressed the close ties between Moscow and East Berlin.

FOUR ACCUSED BY LEADER IN CINDER DEALS

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg (AP)—Prospects of widespread arrests were hinted today in the wage of charges that a Republican cinder contractor corrupted three former Democratic county highway superintendents.

"We have the goods on some others but for reasons I can't say we cannot disclose any other names," said Deputy Atty. Gen. Victor H. Wright.

Gov. Leader told a special news conference yesterday the Commonwealth had been defrauded of $45,000 in fake cinder deliveries for the State Highways Dept. in York, Chester and Lancaster counties.

Wright said he was investigating in 19 other counties the operations of Victor Patrikonis Prep. Frackville cinder contractor who has been arrested on charges of conspiracy and false pretense.

Prep, also under indictment since April on charges of perjury and bribery in connection with cinder sales to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, was described by Leader as "the focus of the fraud."

He held a State Highways Dept. contract to supply cinders for 22 counties in eastern and central Pennsylvania.

Leader also disclosed that criminal action was planned against three former county highway superintendents, including John Crendall, Manchester, RD 1, who also served as York County Democratic chairman.

The governor, whose home county is York, was asked by a newsmen if he had considered Crendall—who has since resigned—as his personal appointment.

Leader said he was "interested" in Crendall and added that the man was "my county chairman."

The two other county highway superintendents were suspended from their present posts. Leader said they are Frank S. Jamieson, West Chester, district maintenance engineer with headquarters at Haverford, and Philip J. Price, Columbia, of the property and supplies highway purchasing division.

Leader was flanked by Wright and highways secretary Joseph J. Lawler as he outlined the alleged cinder fraud to newsmen.

Wright said he was investigating Prep's operations in Susquehanna, Clinton, Monroe, Bradford, Berks, Montgomery, Fulton, Cameron, Elk, Lebanon, Delaware, McKean, Cumberland, Union, Franklin, Tioga, Schuylkill, Pike and Potter counties.

Leader, obviously embarrassed by the role of Democrats in the alleged cinder fraud, was cautious as to what results would be produced by the probe.

Dollar Days has been arranged by the Retailers Committee of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce with the return of the Mystery Man and distribution of hundreds of giant dollar bills as special features.

Tomorrow's edition of the Times-Mirror will be a special one with advertising from the forty participating stores, all of which are offering the best values and biggest bargains of the season.

Friday and Saturday a Mystery Man (identity unknown) will be roaming the Dollar Day stores and will give away scores of the giant black and white dollar bills. These certificates can be used for a dollar's worth of merchandise in any of the participating stores either Friday or Saturday.

In addition, hundreds of the "big bills" will be inserted in the pages of Thursday's edition of the Times-Mirror. Readers are asked to read the paper closely tomorrow and if a big bill is found use it when shopping this weekend. It can be used just like a real dollar bill.

The following merchants are cooperating in August Dollar Days and can be identified by the red and white banners in their store windows.

"Slap" Heard Around Empire Adds Fresh Fuel to Fuss Over Criticism of Queen's English

London (AP)—A doughty 64-year-old today paid $2.80 for slapping the face of the peer who criticized Queen Elizabeth II.

Philip Kinghorn Burbridge, an ex-soldier and merchant seaman, pleaded guilty in Bow Street Criminal Court to bopping 33-year-old Lord Altrincham.

He was fined one pound—$2.80.

Altrincham sent eyebrows and tempers rising last week with an article panning the public speaking, interest and advisers of Queen Elizabeth II. Other peers muttered dire threats but Burbridge was the first to take physical action in defense of his sovereign.

Burbridge was accused specifically of insulting behavior.

In fining him, the chief London magistrate, Sir Lawrence Dunne, said: "Your action only made a most unsavory episode more squalid. In a case like this, it is the weight of public opinion that counts, and not making a brawl of it."

Burbridge, who said he earned $19.60 as a representative of the ultranationalist League of Empire Loyalists, told the judge: "Such notions are foreign to my nature. Due to the scurrilous attack by Lord Altrincham, I felt it was up to decent Britons to show some resentment."

"What I feared most was the overseas repercussion and the republication in the American newspapers."

After the one-punch battle last night outside a Broadcasting station, Burbridge had told reporters: "I did what Prince Philip wanted to do but couldn't."

Prince Philip, the Queen's husband, currently is busy yachting in the annual Cowes Regatta.

Just before getting slapped, Altrincham had made a TV appearance in which he defended his criticism of the Queen.

OHIO MANUFACTURER BEING CONSIDERED FOR THE POST OF SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

By Ed CREAGH

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he still opposes the Senate version of the civil rights bill but it remains to be seen whether further congressional action will meet his objections.

Eisenhower also told a news conference he is very earnestly considering Ohio Manufacturer Neil H. McElroy to succeed Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense.

The President indicated McElroy will be named to the post as soon as current investigations have been completed.

As for Wilson, Eisenhower said the defense secretary has not—contrary to published accounts of his recent testimony before a congressional committee—opposed a budget reform plan favored by the President.

Eisenhower said Wilson merely tried to show what effect the proposed financing change would have on the Defense Department.

Eisenhower said he is viewing with the utmost hope the prospects that the Russians will accept the aerial and ground inspection plan put forward by Secretary of State Dulles in the London disarmament talks.

The President said general disarmament would follow step by step almost automatically if the U. S. proposal should be accepted.

But first, he said, there must be some little progress toward mutual trust between the Communist world and the West.

Eisenhower's brief comment on the civil rights bill came as the Senate moved toward a vote, perhaps later today, on a version to which the President voiced strong objections in a statement Aug. 2.

He said today that this statement reflects very accurately his present views.

Eisenhower said he believes the jury trial provision for criminal contempt cases, which the Senate wrote into the bill, would be most damaging to the nation's judicial system.

But the President declined to say specifically whether he would veto the bill if it reached him in the form finally hammered out by the Senate.

Eisenhower said he prefers not to comment on legislation until it is before him.

He said what the House, or a Senate-House conference, might do to remove his objections to the bill remains to be seen.

Answering critics who have contended he should have pushed more actively for the kind of legislation he wants, Eisenhower said he'd be the first to say that sometimes he may not have been as effective as he might have been.

But he said he insists on limiting himself to the effort to control himself (Turn to Page Eight)

Condition of First Lady Reported "Fine"

Washington (AP)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower continues in "fine" condition following surgery yesterday, her physician reported today.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, relayed the statement from Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the presidential physician.

The President's wife underwent a two-hour operation, performed by an Army gynecologist, yesterday at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

President Eisenhower visited with her for 35 minutes last night, but as he left he told newsmen "I think she's sleeping."

He took with him to the hospital a small wax paper package which might have contained flowers.

Stassen Spells Out Decision On U. S. Bases

By WATSON SIMS

London (AP)—The United States has made plan to Russia that it will not open all its bases to Soviet aerial inspection until the place of Asia's Red nations in Russian military plans is spelled out.

Harold E. Stassen, U. S. delegate to the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee, indicated this yesterday when Russia's Valerian Zorin made a three-point request for clarification on the air and ground inspection system proposed last week by Secretary of State Dulles.

Asked by Zorin why the plan did not cover U. S. bases in North Africa, the Middle East, Turkey and Pakistan, Stassen replied that their inclusion would have brought up "very difficult" political questions.

Stassen pointed out that the Western proposal provides for possible expansion of the inspection zones when and if progress is made toward settling political questions involved.

Informed U. S. sources here made clear the main question involved in expanding the inspection zones is Russia's relationship with the Communist governments of China, North Korea, North Viet Nam and Outer Mongolia.

Those Red nations are not recognized by the United States and are not involved in the disarmament negotiations.

Pittsburgh To Eerie Access Highway Is Reported Planned

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph said today plans are under way to link Pittsburgh and Erie with a modern access highway.

Part of the proposed highway will start at the Point and go to Warrendale, the paper said. It will be on the Interstate Highway System, which means 90 per cent of the cost will be paid by the federal government, the Sun-Telegraph reported.

According to the paper, a spokesman for the State Highways Dept. said it is believed the U. S. Bureau of Roads will approve an interstate highway beyond Warrendale to connect with the proposed Keystone Shortway and then on to Erie.

The Sun-Telegraph said Pennsylvania hopes to get the Shortway-Erie link on the Interstate Highway System also.

Gluck Appointment Is Criticized By Adlai Stevenson

New York (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says the appointment of Maxwell H. Gluck as ambassador to Ceylon is "another example of the cynical payment of political debts at the expense of our friends and international respect."

The 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential candidate also says that Eisenhower administration has "done great damage to our diplomatic services from the outset."

Stevenson made the comment at a news conference, several hours after he arrived by plane from a three-month tour of Europe and Africa.

He went to the news conference with prepared statements on economic and political developments in Europe and Africa, civil rights in the United States, disarmament and the Gluck appointment.

President Eisenhower's appointment of Gluck was approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee after a hearing and later was confirmed by the Senate.

Stevenson made the comment at a news conference, several hours after he arrived by plane from a three-month tour of Europe and Africa.

Verdict Closes Books on Lawrence Co. Tragedy

New Castle (AP)—The books were closed today on the tragic deaths of a pretty New Wilmington High School senior and a 29-year-old suitor.

A Lawrence County coroner's jury has ruled that Theodore G. Fordney, a postal employee, committed suicide last May 28 a short time after strangling Judy Barber, 19, with an electrical cord.

Fordney died in his backyard of a head wound self-inflicted with a shotgun, the jury ruled. A short time after the discovery of Fordney's body, Miss Barber was found at the foot of the stairs of the New Wilmington home she shared with her father.

Witnesses Monday night told the coroner's jury that Miss Barber had dated Fordney occasionally but that the night of the tragedy she had entertained another youth in her home.

"Pittsfield Park" Case Winds Up With Chance That Entire Proceedings May Be Dropped

Defense and prosecution attorneys in the "Pittsfield Park" affair wound up their cases with a procession of witnesses in Warren County Court Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock.

When the parade was over Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., intimated that if an earlier legal point raised by the defense quashed the prosecution, all testimony would be nullified and the proceedings against Robert Lynn dropped.

This eventually hinged on a legal mump in records of the legislative session in 1861 which passed laws dealing with destruction of ornaments in "public and private gardens." Defense Attorney C. Henry Nicholson's first move in the case Monday was to ask that the destroying public property charge against his client be dropped.

He based his request on an apparent irregularity in amended statutes nearly a century old. The reference to previous acts in the year 1861 did not pertain in date or in essence, said Nicholson. The judge reserved decision Monday but at the close of the hearing appeal yesterday said lawyers had ten days in which to prepare briefs on the legal point and that he would not close the issue to oral arguments.

Legal briefs on the two afternoons of testimony may not be necessary, said Judge Flick, if he rules in favor of the defense request. In that event, Robert Lynn, of Jamestown, will go free of the charge brought by the Commonwealth that on June 9, 1956, the accused did wilfully commit a criminal act when he destroyed a bench placed on a section of ground in Pittsfield which, depending on one's opinion, is either a public "Park" or "village green" or else is not. Lynn was fined $50, sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Judge Flick wound up the hearing with the reminder to the numerous defense and prosecution witnesses clustered in court (those in favor of Pittsfield sat in left center, those in favor of Lynn, right center) that the charge was indeed a serious one and that if criminality was proved, sentence would have to be passed.

The hearing Tuesday was largely a continuance of the session Monday. Defense introduced Harry Bowles, Myrtle Haight, Opal Morris of Pittsfield, Mrs. Crosby of Erie and H. H. Husted of Youngsville, all of whom testified that they could not recall a public park or village green ever being designated in Pittsfield, and that they could never remember any public functions on the spot.

Then, George C. Spinks, present tenant of the house on the disputed property, was called. He testified that when he moved in on July 21, 1954, Mrs. Emmett Lynn, wife of the former owner and late mother of Robert Lynn, had told him (Spinks) that he was to mow to three silver maple trees near the monument and "tend a rose bush near the sidewalk, (which could indicate that the Lynns held claim to all the property, including that in front of the monument.)

Lynn himself, in important testimony on the stand, said that he had discussed with his father the monument and property and certain "encroachments." What had settled the matter then was that his father had told him, said young Lynn, that there were no documents in the Register and Recorder's Office which gave anybody title to anything except the Lynns. Then the defendant marked three trees on a photograph of the disputed plot and, after pointing out these boundaries as the only land which could be claimed as a park, said the bench he took down was beyond those boundaries.

District Attorney Myer Kornreich limited his windup to two witnesses. Henry Damelson told of Mrs. Emmett Lynn discussing "access" problems to the property and read part of a deed which in discussing the nearby church property did refer to a "village green." This deed was dated 1924.

Final prosecution witness was George W. Durlin of Pittsfield, an elderly resident, who recalled persons setting up a croquet area on the plot back in the late nineteenth century.

The defense rested after recalling George Spinks to testify as to the position he remembered of the bench, Judge Flick then adjourned the session after allowing lawyers ten days for filing of briefs on the question of whether the charge should be allowed to stand.

Bradford Man Provides Local Co-Partnership to Tate Furs

Robert L. Williams of Bradford is moving to Warren in the near future to provide local co-ownership and management to S. K. Tate Furs which has taken over Warren Furs at 5 Conewango avenue beside Motor Lighthouse.

Mr. Williams, a native of Olean, brings with him to the local furriers considerable experience in a field where the name of S. K. Tate ranks highest in this area.

ROBERT L. WILLIAMS

As the new manager says: "We deal in quality without charging top price. Our specialty is Crown Royal label which means the best you can buy in the type of fur desired."

Mr. Williams stressed the selection available at the S. K. Tate outlet and noted it compared favorably with any selection in Buffalo, Cleveland or even New York City.

"We have at our disposal," said Mr. Williams, "over $4,000,000 worth of buying power in the New York office. What we may not have on hand in our store we can have in two days."

If anybody wants a $50,000 chinchilla or fine mink, it can be had from S. K. Tate. But it is quality within a dozen price ranges which is the mark of the successful furriers.

The building on Conewango avenue is undergoing a remodeling process at the moment which will mean, among other things, a door leading directly into the store rather than through the cleaning establishment at the south end of the building.

Mr. Williams will make his home in Warren as soon as he and wife, Nancy K. Merchant, a Buffalo native (who at one time lived in Sugar Grove), and two children, Kenneth James 3½, and Kate Emily, two weeks, can find suitable housing.

Mr. Williams attended Olean and Bolivar, N. Y., schools prior to World War II service in the paratroopers and engineers, helping in the guided missile project at White Sands, New Mexico. He also attended West Brook Business Academy in Olean.

Youngville Boy Scout Troop Back From Camp

Friends of Lawrence Mourer, Fifth street, will be pleased to learn he came home Monday after spending 10 days in Warren General Hospital and is much improved in health.

Mrs. Laura Wing is home after a week's visit in Sigel and Fisher.

THE VOICES

From the editorial column of The New York Times:

August is the noisiest month of the summer, though the sounds have come so gradually and are so much a part of the day-to-day aspect that we have to listen consciously to hear them. Primarily, they are insect sounds, relatively minor individually but combining into a vast, insistent chorus that rasps from before dawn until well after dark. The season wanes and the countless billions of insects approach the end of their brief cycle with frenzied activity and oral demand.

Crickets of all kinds are busy, early and late, chirping from dark corners and shady havens, still too many to be annoying or fireside-comforting as they certainly will be a few months hence. Cicadas are shrilling from poles and tree trunks, their crescendo buzz making hot afternoons shiver with sound. Their season nears its end. The first of the katydids can already be heard of an evening, foretaste of the night chorus that will rattle the night, with increasing volume from now until deep frost. And over the sluggish country streams the dusk is vibrant with the communal hum of male mosquitoes, clouds of them, which leave the human listener awed but unhurt since the males of the mosquito tribe have no stilettos and do not "bite."

The days and the nights hum and vibrate, and most of us hear without listening, sense only vaguely the teeming sounds of insect life. So profuse are the sounds, in fact, that we must concentrate, listen for one particular sound, to hear it at all. Like so many voices, even the individual kinds are lost in the multitude, lost in the welter of cacophony, so we must make a conscious choice if we would listen at all.

Matter Of Fact:

Ike: The Aura Fades

By STEWART ALSOP

Washington—Something mysterious but important, which cannot be precisely described or explained, has happened in recent weeks. Until very recently, a kind of celestial aura, a quality of being larger than life, surrounded Dwight D. Eisenhower, like "The divinity that doth hedge a King." But in recent weeks, the aura has rather suddenly begun to wear off.

You could sense the fading of the aura at the President's most recent press conference, for example. The President has had—and for that matter still has—the kindest press that any President has enjoyed in this century. Until very recently, the almost motherly attitude of the press towards the President made his press conferences rather dull affairs.

But last Wednesday, the President was asked a number of questions with distinct "Have-you-stopped-beating-your-wife?" overtones. At least twice—when he was asked about his personal finances and about his appointment of the unfortunate Maxwell H. Gluck as Ambassador to Ceylon—the President became visibly angry.

There is plenty of other evidence of the new tendency to treat the President more like a human being and less like a sovereign to be admired at a respectful distance. It is no longer shocking, or even very surprising, to find such words as "vacillating" or "wishy-washy" used in the friendly press to describe the President's handling of such matters as the budget, or the school bill, or civil rights.

Throughout his first term, even the most partisan Democrats on Capitol Hill shied away from criticism of the President himself—when they wanted to criticize, they were careful to substitute the euphemism "The Administration" for the Eisenhower name. When old Sen. Matthew Neely of West Virginia attacked the President personally in 1955, he was shunned like a leper, and quickly subsided into silence.

But now criticism of the President is becoming almost fashionable in the Congress. Sen. Robert Kerr's aspersions on the President's intelligence were only a symptom. Northern Democrats like Senators Richard Neuberger and Paul Douglas have already served clear notice that they intend to hold the President personally responsible for the weakening of the civil rights bill, and in the House, he has been personally blamed for the defeat of the school bill.

The repeated rebuffs the President has suffered in his attempts to recruit men for the highest posts in his administration are another symptom of his fading aura. Twenty-one businessmen, for example, have blandly refused the offer to head the Foreign Aid Agency. It is a good bet that almost every one of the twenty-one offered a similarly important post four years ago, would have mentally snapped to attention and accepted.

There are a number of reasons for the fading of the aura. There is simple familiarity, which has a way of causing auras to fade. There is the fact that the bluish of the rose for the more conservative businessmen, who dreamed of a return to the virtually tax-free heaven of the nineteen twenties, and whose disillusion has been reflected in the muted anti-Eisenhower revolt among Republicans in Congress. Finally, of course, there is the fact that Dwight Eisenhower is the first constitutional lame duck President in history.

Here and There

Following is a poem from "Those who know" and who think "these fellows deserve a little writing like this":

"In coming to your city, We found you all at rest. The town was peaceable asleep. But those who guard it best. These men you should remember, Have given all their time.

To see that all is safe and sound, As they patrol your town. Remember everybody, those fellows we love best.

Their loyalty, to everyone. No words, we could express. In time of need, they're always there.

To give a helping hand. In wreck, in fire, flood and all, When panic strikes our land, We turn to one of them for help.

Because they understand. Remember if it wasn't for those fellows dressed in blue, Your town would never be so safe.

Thank God, these words are true."

With the ruce, cool, fall-like air hanging around Warren, two young fellows decided that this must be the best place for fishing!

The two youths, Bob Rock and Byron Murphy, both 16, from Charleroi, arrived in Warren county Monday and bunked over night at the police station. They just arrived from Tennessee, now making their 1957 adventure add up to 1,500 miles. Tuesday they were fishing at the gravel pit. Transportation was supplied by motorist, and one trucker who brought them from Tennessee to New Bethlehem, pulled a villainous trick on the youths. He ran out of gas and asked the boys for $10. and promised to pay them back when they arrived in New Bethlehem. He claimed he had his car parked there and money was in it. Three miles out of New Bethlehem he discharged his Good Samaritans, without paying them their $10. The boys are carrying canned food in knapsacks, along with fishing gear. They travel primarily for fishing and one youth explained, "The fishing seems to be getting better, now." This isn't their first visit to Warren. Last year they spent three weeks fishing in this vicinity. The young adventurers have traveled through Ohio, Virginia, Tennessee, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, and West Virginia. If wanderlust overtakes them before their contemplated one-month stay in Warren is concluded, Erie will be the next stopover.

Here are a few more of those quips reprinted from the files of the Evening Mirror of sixty years ago this week. "Had any off the cob yet?" ... When a man eats too much duck, he should take a dose of quack medicine ... When a girl yells in shrill beseeching tones from the shadow of the trees where swings the hammock you never can tell whether some one is trying to murder her or a caterpillar has fallen down her neck ... If it is true that other planets are inhabited by sinners the old earth should not feel so lonely as to stroll through space on a quiet summer night ...

And this found heading the "Brevities" column.

"Beware! there is danger in her glance as she trips through the mazes of the dance. She's the summer girl in her dress of lawn. Fair as the goddess that rules the dawn. The lily and the rose on a single stem. Of maidens fair she is the gem. She sighs, she smiles, she pouts; take care, Young man; of this summer girl, beware."

Corydon—The 16th annual reunion of the Corydon School was held Sunday in the IOOF Hall, with approximately 75 persons attending.

Since its organization, back in 1941, this annual get-together has continued to grow in popularity and attendance. At Sunday's event, places were set for 58 persons who held reservations for dinner served by the local restaurant at two long tables made attractive with floral arrangements.

The business session which followed was opened by Mrs. Margaret Coats, vice president, in the absence of President R. J. Clavon of Warren; minutes of the 1956 reunion were read by Mrs. Mayme Schrader, newly-appointed to serve as secretary because of the resignation of Mrs. Audrey Duntley.

Other business was transacted and the following were called upon for remarks: J. K. Crooks, Webb Day, Carl O'Dell, Clarence Bryan and W. P. Browne.

Those in attendance from away for the pleasant affair were Mr. and Mrs. Webb Day, Conshohocken, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Siggins, Lakewood, O.; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Browne, Visalia, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Browne, Niobe, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Quaintance, Ivory, N. Y.

Gold Star Mothers Will Have September Picnic

At the regular meeting of Warren County Chapter, Gold Star Mothers, plans were made for the next gathering, to take the form of a picnic in Crescent Park at 6:00 p. m. September 4.

Gold Star Mothers will be invited for the event and each member will be asked to bring a tureen, table service and coffee.

Monday night's meeting was held at the American Legion Home and included reports from a number of projects. One report concerned the picnic at Erie, with 34 attending and all reporting a good time.

Donations were voted to the Spot and to the Gold Star Mothers' Home in Washington, D. Mirrored in Our Times

Every once in a while (thanks to our friends)—we happen upon an exclusive bit of local news. The July 17 New York Herald Tribune (via Maggi Nolas, Paris correspondent), brought forth word of Warren's well-known Miss Marie McGarry. Marie is our own current export and is now enjoying her first trip to Paris where she is taking care of her three grandchildren by day and seeing the bright lights by night. Miss McGarry, mother of ten grown children, is visiting daughter "Ann," famed Paris fashion artist, and wife of Art Buchwald, Paris Herald Tribune columnist. According to our chipping, (presented to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Smith by Mr. and Mrs. Harry England, who returned from Europe a week ago), Mrs. McGarry has met and chatted with Bob Hope, Olivia DeHavilland, Maurice Chevalier, Mlle. Martine Carol, Mr. David Schoenbrun and the polo-playing Donald C. Hannah from Palm Beach. The Smiths, weekend guests of Miss Mary Craft, Liberty street, are residents of New Orleans, La. (as are the Englands). All of this should prove that Warren exports some mighty fine people.

By the same token, Paris and France import wonderful items to Warren. Famous names from over the ocean are becoming as familiar here as the name—Marie McGarry!

Examples! —Perfumes by Lanvin. Worth and Prince Matchabelli are known to be French imports — exquisite, exclusive and elegant. Delightfully fragrant and deliciously different, such beauty products are now to be found in Warren at the Warren Drug Store! No need to travel afar and abroad—phone 1426 for your breath of Parisian atmosphere.

Just found a new item (we hope!) — a famous manufacturer has produced a unique shaker package of flour—designed especially for graves, flouring, small recipes, etc. Modest in price, this 14-oz. item is one you'll want for the top of your stove.

We note that the summer issue of "Stepping Stones", published by the Warren County Historical Society, is now being perused by fortunate subscribers. The current issue has a number of interesting items, the least of which is the fascinating account of "The Spencer Tragedy" by Dr. William M. Cashman. Also noted is the fact that "anyone can join the county society at any time (and the membership includes the "Stepping Stones" bulletin).

Our boys are home again' (after two weeks at camp)—and, as

Widowed Mother's Plight Disregarded by Daughter

THE problems of a 13-year-old can be pretty big. And one of the biggest problems of a teen-age girl is not being able to get along with her mother.

A 13-year-old girl writes: "My mother and I aren't getting along at all since my father died three years ago.

"I don't have a steady boy friend because my mother doesn't approve of anyone I want to go steady with. She doesn't seem to try to understand me and she is making me almost hate her by being so strict and so hard on me."

There's more than one problem here. It is just as important for you to try to understand your mother as for her to try to understand you.

Has it ever occurred to you that your mother is lonely and maybe even frightened? She no longer has your father to share problems with, to depend on for earning a living, to help make decisions, to share the responsibility of bringing you up.

MOTHER'S ALONE

ALL the responsibility is hers. She, alone, now is responsible for your safety, your welfare and giving you your chance to make something of yourself.

Fear of making a mistake, of doing the wrong thing, of losing her control over you probably makes her much more strict than she would have been had your father lived.

So try to understand what she is up against. And instead of resenting your mother's hard and fast rules, try by cooperation and love and dependability to let her see that you are growing up, that you can be trusted.

You aren't the only one who is having a rough time—and don't forget it.

However, hard as it has been for you since your father's death, you must realize it has been even harder for your mother. And she needs your help and understanding just as much as you need hers.

The answer lies with the President. For the most important reason for the fading of the Eisenhower aura also lies with the President. His newly acquired habit of staging public debates with himself on such issues as the budget and civil rights has indeed given an impression of wish-washiness, which has greatly undermined his personal authority. But a President can almost always get what he wants when he really goes after it.

The President proved this himself when he went to the country to defend his foreign aid and defense budgets. As a result of this counterattack, he stood an excellent chance of getting substantially what he wanted—until, amazingly, he cut the ground out from under his own supporters in the budget fight by asking far less than the sum he had previously designated as the bedrock minimum for defense.

The fact is that a President, lame duck or no, has immense power if he is willing to use it. Above all, he has the power of choosing, or at least profoundly influencing the choice of his party's next Presidential candidate. The question is whether President Eisenhower, being the kind of man he is, will use the power he has. If he does, the fading of the Eisenhower aura is likely to be a temporary phenomenon.

Veteran Warren Shoemaker Retiring

At left is "Pete" Sorensen, dean of Warren shoemakers, who retires today after 31 years in the trade. "Pete" spent 33 years operating the small basement shop below the former bus depot, which has now been sold to Ben Mongiello (center), a native of Mercer. At right is Howard Sorensen who had managed the shop the past few years as advancing age took over his father, a Denmark native, who is retiring at the age of 76.

The dean of Warren shoemakers, Peter Sorensen, retired today after 61 years at his trade. Thirty-three of those years have been spent in the little basement shop beneath the former bus station across from Melroy Cafe.

It was here where "Pete" opened his shoe repair shop in downtown Warren in 1924 and it is here where Ben Mongiello will continue to operate the business.

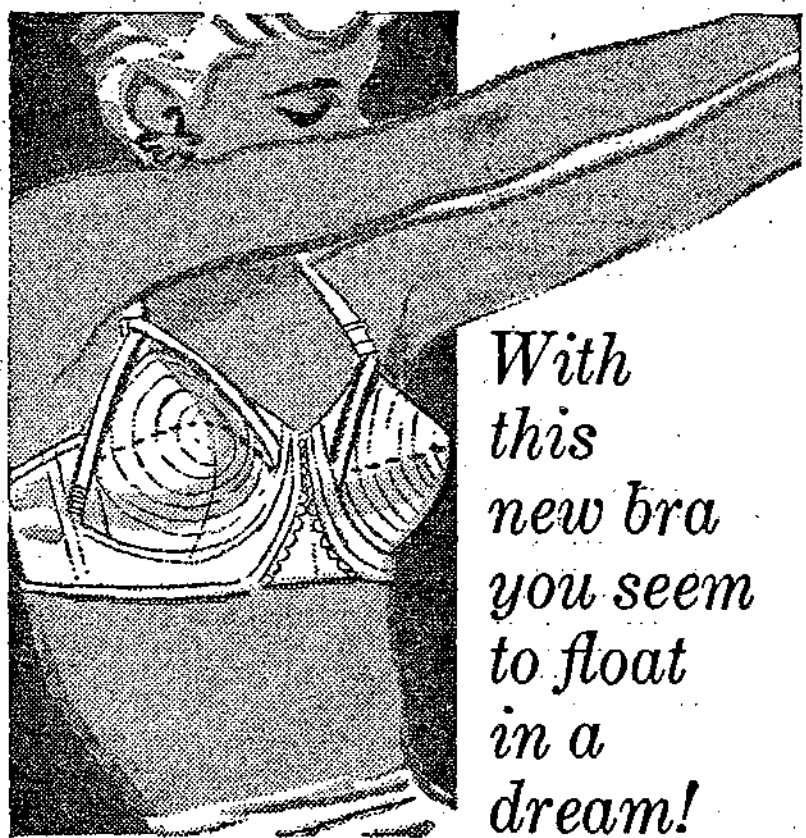

With his retirement, "Pete" joins the rest of that vanishing American known as "shoe makers". Where this community had nine shoe repair establishments a decade ago, only three now remain—Russo's Shoe Re-Nuery and Santo D. Falvo Shop, besides the new Mongiello's. All three are clustered within a block of each other on Pennsylvania Avenue downtown.

But it was 76-year-old "Pete" Sorensen who was the only one left of the old master shoemen in Warren, a group which had at one time included Messrs. Thomas Tridico on Hickory street, Mavrells and Morell.

Another old-time shoe repairman in Warren was Michael Nichols, father of Frank Nichols, of the Nichols Service station, who came here from Ludlow in 1908 and opened business in a small building which he erected on land purchased from the late Gennera Fillegi, just west of Vic Julian's Market at 1118 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

Later the son came and worked in the shop.

"Pete" Sorensen was born in Denmark in 1880 and in 1895 at the age of 15 he ventured to the largest nearby town of Asborg where he served his apprenticeship. Then to Oslo, Norway, where he worked in a shop which had 18 men turning out the handmade shoe from sole to upper.

About the turn of the century "Pete" went back to Copenhagen in his native land where he ran his own shop for five years before joining the mass exodus at the time to the new country, the "Promised Land" in United States. "Pete" settled in Erie in 1908, had his own shop there by 1911.

Finally in 1924 "Pete" came to Warren to operate the repair shop beneath what was then Redding's Shoe Store where the old bus station was. It was then that the aging craftsman watched the final remnants of what had once been an art become a machined product as nimble fingers were replaced by the power driven needle. "Pete" also recalls the inferior leather now turned out as 30 days (or less) of chemical tanning cannot replace the three-month process of "bark tan."

Age finally overcame "Pete" a couple years ago and the shop at 306 Pennsylvania Avenue was turned over to son Howard, though the elder man was always on the premises.

Now Howard has sold out to Ben Mongiello, a native of Mercer who returns to his native state from Albuquerque, N. M. He and his father plan to leave their home soon at 426 1/2 Pennsylvania avenue, west, and travel to Englewood, Fla., where they have bought some property. He has another son, Carl Sorensen, who lives on Connecticut Avenue, Extension and works at Struthers. "Pete's" wife, Augusta, died in 1938.

The retired shoemaker admits his sudden leisure after 61 years in the trade makes him a little restless at first but "Pete" expects to conquer that shortly.

Three Forage Crop Meetings Planned In Forest County

Publicity release from the Forest county agent:

Three forage crop field meetings will be held in Forest County on Wednesday, August 14, with Al Cooper of Penn State as speaker, according to an announcement from County Agent Russell M. Smith.

Cooper is extension specialist in grass and legume crops of Pennsylvania State University, known to local farmers as speaker at grassland farming-dairy winter meetings.

The first meeting will be at 10:00 a. m. in Red Brush community on the farm of Lloyd Allio, who is demonstrating the use of birdsfoot trefoil for hay and pasture. He also has a field of the new Gerry variety of oats seeded to DuPuits alfalfa. This new variety of alfalfa is reported to be earlier and makes a more vigorous, rapid recovery after harvest than common varieties, says Smith.

The afternoon meeting will be at 1 p. m. on the farm of William Motzer in German Hill community. Part of the meeting will be in the alfalfa variety demonstration established five years ago to see which of the following varieties maintains the best stand over a long period: Grimm, Atlantic, Buffalo, Ranger and Narragansett.

Nearby the visitors will see fields of legumes topped with 0-20-20 fertilizer after haymaking this summer.

In eastern Forest County, farmers will meet at 7:30 on the farm of Mervyn Yeane, east of Marienville, to see 25 acres of birdsfoot trefoil and to hear specialist Cooper give pointers on producing heavier yields of forage crops. Other demonstrations on the Yeane Farm include the plowing down of fertilizer for corn, contour farming, field drainage, a farm pond, and a mechanical silage feeder.

interview he had dictated the questions from memory to an office stenographer named June Licata. Kennedy immediately began trying to reach Miss Licata by telephone.

Leon Reich, New York attorney appearing with Easton, said he was present during the interview. He said so far as he knew there was no recording device during the interview.

Sen. Curtis (R-Neb.) to test the witness' memory, asked him to repeat the first 54 questions asked him this morning before the committee, or even to give the first five.

Easton's reply to that was to plead the Fifth Amendment.

Easton was one of a series of witnesses through whom the committee sought to show that racketeer Dio used unions he controlled to clinch the power of Teamsters tycoon James R. Hoffa in New York.

The committee contends that Dio-controlled unions were shifted to "paper" locals in the Teamsters in order to vote a pal of Hoffa's into a top New York Teamsters office.

Asiatic flu is a strain of influenza originating in the Orient. Dr. Ingraham said Philadelphia has been "seeded" for an outbreak of Asiatic flu by Boy Scouts who attended the recent National Jamboree at nearby Valley Forge and visited the city.

Liz Taylor Gives Birth To a Premature Baby

New York (P)—Showman Mike Todd says nine doctors deserve bows for a "miraculous" job in the delivery of a premature baby to his wife Elizabeth Taylor.

A 4-pound, 14-ounce daughter was born to the beautiful brunette film star through Caesarean section yesterday at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. The baby was due in October.

Miss Taylor, 24, was in the hospital two days last week for labor pains. She was released but returned again Saturday.

The actress is the mother of two sons from her marriage to British actor Michael Wilding. She and Todd were married last Feb. 2.

Leading Middleweights Are Clashing Tonight

Chicago (P)—Chicago's Spider Webb and Charley Joseph of New Orleans, a pair of leading middleweights, clash at Chicago Stadium tonight.

The 10-round bout will be televised nationally over ABC at 9 p. m. EST. Webb, ranked No. 6 by the National Boxing Assn., will be out to avenge his defeat at the hands of Joseph June 18.

The loss cost Webb a chance of clamoring for a shot at the mid-weight title held by Sugar Ray Robinson and coveted by welter-weight champion Carmen Basilio.

Despite his loss to Joseph, Webb is a 7-5 favorite to win the rematch.

Joseph, 24, has a record of 39-5-1 and owns 16 knockouts.

Courchesne Through as Fighter, Manager Says

Springfield, Mass. (P)—Boxer Bobby Courchesne, 22, was due to be released from Springfield Hospital today. The Holyoke ring veteran is recovering from a brain operation for a blood clot. The surgery was performed July 29.

The lightweight campaigner collapsed in his corner after the eighth round of a scheduled 10-rounder against Bobby Bell of Youngstown, Ohio, in New York in July.

After a conference with doctors, Pat Bartlett, Courchesne's manager, said Bobby is through as a fighter.

WOMEN'S TOURNAY

Pittsburgh (P)—Five players who have won a total of 13 western Pennsylvania women's golf titles were among eight survivors advancing to today's second round in the 33rd West Penn tourney at Fox Chapel Golf Club. Four of the five have won the crown three times each. They are Betty Abernethy of the host club, Mrs. W. G. Boggs of Allegheny; Jane Martin, state women's titlist from Oakmont, and Mrs. T. E. Nolan of New Castle. The fifth former champion, Mrs. H. S. Semple of Allegheny, won the title in 1954.

INDIANS DOWN TIGERS
Detroit (P)—Roger Maris, Gene Woodling and Vic Wertz crashed home runs last night to power the Cleveland Indians to a 5-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers. Southpaw Don Mossi, only recently turned starter, won his eighth game, scattering eight hits. The loss dropped the Tigers into sixth place in the American League.

New Fast Freight From Pittsburgh To Buffalo On PRR

A new fast freight dubbed the "Beezer" bolts through Warren between 12:30 and 1 p. m. EDT each afternoon except Sunday as Pennsylvania Railroad strives to match New York Central and Nickel Plate service between Buffalo and Chicago.

PRR just recently completed a $33,000,000 yard in Conway about 20 miles from Pittsburgh and it is now found that faster service can be achieved by running the north-bound "Beezer" from Conway to Olean City to Buffalo via Warren and Olean.

For the south trip "Beezer" goes "down the valley" from Buffalo to Corry to Titusville-Olean City-Conway.

The "Beezer" got its name from "BEC" which stood for Buffalo-Erie-Chicago, when at one time PRR did run through Erie on its way to New Castle and then to Conway. The new fast freight leaves Buffalo at 9 a. m., hits Warren after noon and takes between six and seven hours for the trip which has no stops.

MAP NEARS COMPLETION

School Superintendent Carl E. Whipple has reported that the contour map of the proposed new high school on the Swick site is nearing completion, may be ready for architects by the first of next week. The map, it will be remembered, will give land elevations every 10 feet on the 50 acre site off Fifth Avenue Extension. Meanwhile, repairs are being completed to the third floor of the present high school structure which will carry the influx of students September 3 from Beaty. Material for the outdoor chute fire escape has not yet arrived, though it was specified the escape had to be erected by August 18. An extension may be necessary.

Finding one part in a billion is comparable to locating a quarter-inch spot on a string stretched from New York to San Francisco.

ESCAPING BY WATER — West Berlin youngsters romp in the cool water of a city fountain. They would love to be up in the mountains or at the seashore, but if they must remain in Berlin, at least this is better than nothing at all. This was one way of beating the heat wave that had engulfed the city.

SUMMER SALESMAN—Sampling some of his own stock, ice cream vendor Joseph Coletta looks for prospective customers as he set up shop near the Eiffel Tower in Paris. Coletta has been doing business at the same stand for about 25 years.

STRAIGHT FROM THE HORSE'S MOUTH—Curious about the world situation, Angie, two-week-old lamb, gets the word from his equine advisor at the Children's Zoo in Whipsnade, England. Both animals are popular with small fly visitors.

PARIS BY NIGHT—Brilliant fireworks, set off from the Pont Neuf in Paris, light up the skyline even more so than the floodlights on at monuments and other landmarks throughout the city. At left, the magnificent Notre Dame Cathedral takes on a magical toy-like quality in the Bastille Day Celebration fireworks.

DOWN ON THE FARM—Here's an unusual picture of life on a present day farm at Nelson, Mo. Edward Wilson gets out an antique cultivator—at least 25 years old—and a team of horses to cultivate a field of milo. Wilson explained that the tractors were busy with the hay and small grain crops and that the ancient cultivator was doing a mighty good job.

TIME TRAVELER—Against a background of London's Tower Bridge, the U. S. Coast Guard training ship Eagle rocks gently at her mooring after arriving in the British capital. The vessel, along with two other Coast Guard ships, the Yakutat and Absecon, carrying a total of 350 Coast Guard cadets, stopped at London before sailing for Spain. The windjammer must have brought back pleasant memories to old sailors who watched her enter port.

Kinzua Tigers Claw Kennedy Grill 11 to 5 and Practically Sew Up Chautauqua Pennant

The Kinzua Tigers, putting on rip-roaring rallies that netted nine runs in two innings, clawed the Kennedy Grill nine, 11-5, Sunday afternoon at Kennedy and all but sewed up the Chautauqua County Association pennant for 1957.

In raking the Kennedyites, Kinzua fashioned a four-run rally in the seventh and a five-run surge in the eighth to shambolize the ball game. By their seventh-canto splash, they drove the veteran rubber-armed Dick Wakefield to the showers, something that has been accomplished but rarely in the last two decades.

In other league skirmishes, Busti blanked Falconer, 5-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Ken Wilcox, Frewsburg outlasted Brocton in a 27-hit slugfest, 10-7, and the revived Sugar Grove nine powdered Sherman, 13-2.

The goose was hanging high for Kennedy until the double-inning strokes as the Grillers blew a 5-2 lead. The Pennsylvania puni-melled the offerings of four pitchers in the big seventh when they moved out in front, 6-5.

The Kinzua runs in the seventh came on Dick Koble's single, Carl Peterson's double, singles by Mike Mohney and Ray Peterson and an error.

The eighth-inning harvest resulted from singles by Koble and Mohney, doubles by Tony Prozen and Bill Brown and a walk. Don Mohney and Ray Peterson combined to hold Kennedy to five hits.

Sugar Grove rose up for five tallies in the second and, so far as results are concerned, the game could have ended right there. The cluster was achieved this way: Walks to Lloyd Grey and Ron Martin, a two-run error, singles by Virg Allen and Don Spencer, a fielder's choice and Chico Donato's double. Donato smote two doubles and a home run for the winners.

Spencer limited Sherman to eight hits, one of which was pitcher Homer Loomis' home run smash in the first, struck out 15 and walked only two. Loomis fanned eight, walked four and permitted 17 hits.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

Pitching—Curt Barclay, Giants, gained first major league shutout with five-hitter, defeating Dodgers 5-0 after working out of bases-loaded, none-out jam in 1st inning.

Hitting—Willie Miranda, Orioles, drove in both runs with a pair of singles in three trips for 2-1 victory over Red Sox.

The Hot Stove League

To many people, the Warren Hot Stove League is simply a program for boys to play baseball in Warren County. This is correct as far as it goes. The Warren Hot Stove League came into existence in the winter of 1949. Through the efforts and hard work of Charles Musante, local police officer and first President of the League, and many others, the league played its first season in the summer of that year with about five hundred boys and twenty-nine teams. This season, 1957, there are over one-thousand boys and sixty two teams. So, it is obvious that the youth of Warren County are heartily in favor of the league and are becoming increasingly so.

The organization of the league is of interest to many. The President administers the overall operation of the league while the Vice-President "pinch-hits" for the President and helps in his duties. The Recording Secretary keeps a record of league activities while the Treasurer keeps accurate records of league income and expenditures. The Financial Secretary has charge of raising money for the operation of the league—soliciting team sponsors, selling adult memberships and the like. These five officers are elected by the membership at the first meeting of the season, usually held in late winter or early spring. At this meeting, the President appoints committees in fields, equipment, protests, etc. From the respective committee names, is duties are self-explanatory. Also, at this time, the President appoints district chairmen. These districts are generally set up to conform with governmental sub-divisions, i. e., wards and townships. It is the duty of a district chairman to be in overall charge of the teams in his district. He must secure managers of his district teams, distribute equipment to them, and see that everything pertaining to his district runs as smoothly as possible. These, then, are the men behind the scenes of the Warren Hot Stove League—officers, committeemen, district chairmen and managers. These men often devote up to twenty or more hours per week throughout the season for the benefit of the boys, and they almost to a man consider it an honor and a privilege to contribute in any way they can to the Warren Hot Stove League.

Of course, it is a great thrill to see a "kid" pitcher snuff out a promising rally or to see a future Mickey Mantle slug out a game-winning homer. Conversely, the league frowns when they hear of a lopsided score, an umpire dispute, or a protested game. These seem to be, like taxes, always with us but the league ever strives to keep them to a minimum. When, however, you see a player appraisingly slap the shoulder of an opponent, a team cheer the opposition after the game, and see the hard but clean play of two evenly matched teams and the good sportsmanship generally displayed, it makes all the hard work, hours of planning and "headaches" so worthwhile that the league even now is looking forward to a bigger and better season next year.

$101,200 at Stake In Tam O'Shanter Tourney In Chicago

Chicago, (P) — Golfdom's biggest pressure tournament, the $101,200 "World" at Tam O'Shanter, opens tomorrow with an aggregation of professional golfers only that amount of money could lure.

They will be aiming for the No. 1 prize of $50,000 with an additional $50,000 for the winner for a yearlong series of exhibitions.

The top man on the list is Roberto de Vincenzo, the Mexico City pro who won the All American Tournament over the weekend. He shot a snappy 273, 15 under par.

Can he repeat? De Vincenzo himself has said shooting for $3,500 and for $50,000 makes a big difference. Yet it is the same course and the same number of holes.

Another good bet is Gene Littler, who blazed across the final 18 in the All American with a record-tying 65 to finish four strokes behind De Vincenzo. And always considered the man to beat, Sammy Snead may just be finding the range at Tam.

Jones Chevrolet Downs Valone's

Jones Chevrolet defeated Valone's Atlantic 18-11 last evening at Sheffield in the City Softball league. Valone's scored 7 times in the first inning but lost the lead in the 2nd when Jones pushed over 7 runs on 5 hits. S. Hoden held the losers to 4 singles in the first 5 innings. R. Cohn took over in the 6th and allowed 4 singles the rest of the way after the first inning. Jones settled down to play good toward the end.

R. Ritchie had 4 hits in five times at bat. M. Steffan had 3 for 6. B. Bires had 2 homers, G. Steffan and J. Hoden, one each. Of the 18 hits by Jones, 8 were for extra bases, 4 homers and 4 doubles.

Jones now has a 4 and 1 record for the second half. Their next encounter will be against Lacy's Confectionery on the West Side diamond.

Skyline Speedway Is Planning Two 25-Lap Races Sunday

The highlight of the racing program, at Skyline Speedway this Sunday evening, will be the running of two twenty-five lap features. These will be in both the Jalopy and Late Model Divisions and will climax the nine event card. There is a great difference between the two classes of stock car racing. For, in the Late Model Division, we find semi-professional drivers whose skill and daring provides fans with extremely fast and expert competition, while, on the other hand, the less experienced and generally younger drivers, of the Jalopies, are eager to go just as fast, but find that their lack of experience causes them to become involved in tangles much more readily. This of course furnishes the hair raising spins, crashes and roll-overs, that many of the fans enjoy. With the running of both types each Sunday evening, fans at Skyline are always sure of getting "their money's worth" whether they are avid racing fans, whose main desire is for fast and tough competition, or if they are simply looking for a thrill evening's entertainment. The large crowd, in attendance at last Sunday's Championship, found plenty of both as they watched Joe Sauner, of Jamestown, cop the fifty lapper, while Phil Jackson, from Titusville won the twenty-five lap Jalopy main event. Both races had to be restarted after accidents had caused them to be halted. No injuries resulted and the races continued after the track was cleared. It is interesting to note that Sauner and Dean Layfield have finished one-two for the past two weeks and we wonder if Layfield isn't due for a win. Fans will be given another chance to try their hand at handicapping Sunday and a $50 cash prize will be awarded to the lucky person correctly guessing which three drivers will hold down the win, place and show positions, in the Late Model feature. In the event of a tie, the prize money will be equally divided. Track employees and officials, as well as members of the Independent Racing Association, will not be eligible to participate. Race time, at this Sugar Grove oval, where you always see the "Tops" in auto racing, is 8:30 p. m.

Kansas City's New Manager Puts Team On Winning Streak

By JOE MOOSHIL

Chicago, (P) — Harry Craft, Kansas City's new manager, put the Athletics on the winning track last night and promised more victories if "the boys continue to hustle."

Craft, former Cincinnati outfielder, yesterday was named manager, succeeding Lou Boudreau. Several hours later, the A's defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-2, behind the pitching of Alex Kellner and reliever Virgil Trucks and home runs by Woody Held and Billy Martin, a couple of ex-New York Yankees.

"All I ask of the boys is hustle for the 2 or 2 1/2 hours it takes to play a game," said Craft. "They were running them out tonight and played good ball. If they keep it up, we'll win our share of games."

Right Handers With National League Cellar Chums Raise Hob With Flag Contenders

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Bob Rush and Ron Kline, a pair of right-handers with the National League's cellar chums, don't win very often, but when they do it sure raises hob with the pennant contenders.

Neither had won in two months, but when they got the job done last night the race had a new leader and its biggest gap between first and fifth since June 2.

Rush, Chicago Cubs' 31-year-old veteran who hadn't won since June

Sportorial

The dog training season is August to March 31. Such training is not permissible in the early warm months of the year—April, May and June and July. Most of the young of wildlife are brought forth during that period, and they and their mothers need protection. So that the law may be complied with and infractions avoided the Game Commission calls attention to these legal requirements. 1. Dogs must be kept under control while being trained. (The Game Law defines "under control" to mean "within call except when actually on the trail or track of legal game.") 2. No injury may be inflicted on game birds or animals. 3. Carrying a shotgun or rifle while dog training is prohibited. 4. Raccoon dogs may be trained from sunrise to midnight; other dogs from sunrise to 9 p. m., Eastern Standard Time. 5. Sunday training, except on public lands, is legal only after the property owner's consent has been obtained. Dogs may be trained in Pennsylvania on deer, bears or wild turkeys. A hunting license is not required of persons training dogs on game.

Western Teams In National Have Dull Future In The Race

By CHUCK CAPALDO
Milwaukee, (P)—Manager Birdie Tebbetts figures if St. Louis, Milwaukee and his Cincinnati Redlegs play each other to a standstill from here on in, Brooklyn could retain its National League championship.

Birdie admitted last night before the fourth place Reds lost to the Braves 5-4 that there are some ifs, ands and buts to his theory, but on one point he was emphatic.

"If a Western club wins it," he said, "it will be a great club because it will have to eliminate the other two."

Birdie, whose team dropped five games behind Milwaukee, pointed out the three Western contenders play each other in nearly half the remaining 50 games. The Braves climbed over St. Louis into the lead last night.

Actually, the Braves have a total of 23 dates left with Cincinnati and St. Louis, 12 of them at home, while the Cardinals and the Reds each have a total of 21 games left to play against the Braves or each other.

Brooklyn, on the other hand, has 13 games left with the three Western teams. Second division clubs will supply the third running Dodgers with most of their opposition in the days ahead.

Pirates Win First Game For Murtaugh By Beating Phils

Pittsburgh (P)—At least two droughts hereabouts are over. They ended last night as Pitcher Ronnie Kline and the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Pirates ended an eight-game losing streak with a 5-3 victory. Kline was credited with his first triumph after seven straight setbacks.

The game also marked the first time the Pirates have won for Danny Murtaugh since he succeeded Bobby Bragan as manager of the cellar-dwellers.

The Pirates, losers of 13 of their last 16 contests, rested today. They'll get another shot at the fading Phillies tomorrow afternoon.

Bob Skinner affirmed Murtaugh's confidence in starting him the cleanup slot by rapping out two singles in four trips and knocking in two runs, one of them the winning marker in the two-run Pirate seventh.

HOT STOVE LEAGUE GAMES

Western Auto's win leaves them with only 1 loss for the 2nd half.

Thomas Coupling downed Youngsville No. 1 10-1 Tuesday at Youngsville. Arnold had a homer for Thomas Coupling, Anderson and Engle, doubles. Johnson and Arnold comprised battery, Johnson, winning pitcher. Sample and Sittler were battery for Youngsville.

Barnhart and Davis won over Certified Electric 1-0 last night on Lacy in the Midgat league. Thompson had a triple, Tomassoni, double, for the victors. Thompson—Gellotte composed battery, Thompson twirling a no-hitter. Brooks and Bean were battery for Certified.
